33 dead, hundreds missing and feared dead in Leyte mudslides

By Justine Arce, David B. Fernandez
and Greg Singson in Manila

ST. HUMPHRIE, SCOUTING Leyte—Frag of mud and rocks yesterday rumbled down from the mountains after weeks of rain and unleashed a whole village of between 2,000 and 3,000 people, including a schoolhouse filled with children.

Local government officials Monday said the landslide was the deadliest in the area since 1991. At least 33 people were killed, and hundreds were feared dead. The death toll is expected to rise as rescue workers search for survivors.

The landslide hit a small village and a schoolhouse. The schoolhouse was hit by a large rock and was destroyed. The schoolhouse was filled with children.

'Mountain broke, and mud came rushing'

By Justine Arce and David B. Fernandez
and Greg Singson in Manila

ST. HUMPHRIE, SCOUTING (AP)—The mud, it seemed, was a monster that no one could control. It came from the mountains and rushed down the valley.

At first, it was just a small stream of mud. But then it grew into a rushing torrent that swallowed everything in its path.

The mud was so thick that it was impossible to walk on. It was a deadly trap for anyone who was caught in it.

Scientists detect first neutrinos in giant Antarctic detector

ANTARCTICA—SCIENTISTS HAVE DETECTED THE FIRST NEUTRINOS IN A GIANT ANTARCTIC DETECTOR, a major milestone in the search for the elusive particles.

The detector, known as IceCube, is located in the Antarctic ice and is made up of thousands of sensors that detect the light produced by neutrinos as they pass through the ice.

The detector is a giant array of sensors that detect the light produced by neutrinos as they pass through the ice. It is the largest detector of its kind and is expected to revolutionize the study of neutrinos.

Mining not meant to satisfy bottomless greed for profit

...the industry is not just about profit, but about the future of the planet. We must ensure that the resources we extract are used responsibly and sustainably. Wanted: Accreditation body for anti-obesity surgeons

By Tony B. Ibarra

One of the most common complaints of patients who have undergone bariatric surgery is the lack of a body to accredit surgeons. The Philippine Society of Bariatric Surgeons (PSBS) is currently working on this issue. The society, which was founded in 1997, has a membership of about 100 surgeons. It is the only organization in the Philippines that specializes in bariatric surgery. The society has been successful in lobbying for the recognition of bariatric surgery as a specialty. However, it has not been able to get a body to accredit surgeons. The society is currently working on this issue. It is planning to hold a conference in 2000 to discuss this issue. The society is also planning to lobby for the recognition of bariatric surgery as a specialty. The society is also planning to lobby for the recognition of bariatric surgery as a specialty.

GMA 7 gets SEC nod to increase capital

By Robert J. Smith

NEW YORK (AP) — The Securities and Exchange Commission has approved a plan for GMA 7 to increase its capital by up to $1 billion, a move that could help the station compete for more advertising and programming.

The plan, which was approved by the SEC on Feb. 14, allows GMA 7 to raise up to $1 billion in new capital over the next three years. The station, which is owned by the GMA Network, has a current capital of about $500 million.

GMA 7 is one of the top-rated stations in the New York market, and the increase in capital could help it maintain its position. The station's programming includes a mix of news, entertainment, and sports.

The SEC's approval of the plan is a significant step for GMA 7, as it allows the station to raise capital without having to go through a public offering. This could be a cost-effective way for the station to increase its capital.

Analysts forecasts are way below gov't targets

By Michael Sauter

WASHINGTON (AP) — Economists' forecasts for 2006 U.S. economic growth are significantly lower than the targets set by the Bush administration, according to a report released by the Congressional Budget Office.

The CBO report, which was released on Feb. 14, shows that the average forecast for 2006 growth is 3.1 percent, compared to the administration's target of 4.5 percent. The report also shows that the average forecast for 2007 growth is 3.5 percent, compared to the administration's target of 4.5 percent.

The CBO report is based on forecasts from 12 different sources, including the Federal Reserve, the Congressional Budget Office, and various private research firms. The report also shows that the average forecast for 2006 inflation is 2.5 percent, compared to the administration's target of 2.0 percent.

The CBO report is a key indicator of the economic outlook for 2006, and it shows that the administration's targets are ambitious. The report also shows that the economy is expected to grow at a slower pace than in recent years.

The CBO report is based on a number of assumptions, including that the economy will continue to grow at a steady pace. However, there are a number of risks to this outlook, including the possibility of a recession or a major financial crisis.

Reservoirs up for bid anew after $100 buyer backs out

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers is preparing to rebid a $100-million contract for the construction of two new reservoirs in the state of California, after the original winner backed out of the deal.

The contract, which was awarded to a consortium of three companies, was for the construction of two new reservoirs in the state of California. The reservoirs are part of a larger water conservation project that is being funded by the state of California.

China ship line to dock on U.S. port

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Chinese ship line is expected to dock at a U.S. port for the first time, a move that could help boost trade between the two countries.

The ship line, which is based in China, is expected to dock at a U.S. port in the coming months. The ship line is one of the largest in the world, and it is expected to carry a large number of passengers and cargo.

The move is a significant step for the ship line, as it allows it to expand its operations in the U.S. market. It is also a sign of the growing trade relationship between the two countries.
